2009 Eden Valley Shiraz

Winemaker's Comments

"The Eden Valley Shiraz, reflecting its slightly cooler origin, has a medium palate weight dominated by red fruits. A clean and pure palate structure, the wine is highlighted by buoyant acidity, subtle spice and a juicy finish. This wine, along with its Cabernet counterpart, punches well above its weight."
- Richard Langford

Style- Medium-bodied, dry

Colour- Deep purple black

Aroma- Chocolate, mulberry, vanilla

Flavour- Red fruits, chocolate and velvety tannin develop for the next 3-4 years given correct cellaring

JULY 2010

2009 Adelaide Hills Sauvignon Blanc

Winemaker's Comments

" This Sauvignon Blanc from the Adelaide hills region is from a mature vineyard (12 yrs) and has a difference of 20 metres in elevation across the block. This has allowed us to blend in the vineyard by picking the fruit at a point where the top vines on harder ground, with limited foliage, had a wonderful passionfruit bouquet and full palette weight. The lower fruit in turn, on heavier soil, had more foliage giving the grassy characters & acid, which we feel has resulted in finely balanced wine with an array of nuances. Please enjoy." - Richard Langford

Style- Light bodied, aromatic, dry

Colour- Translucent to pale straw

Aroma- Cut grass, passionfruit

Flavour- Passionfruit, fresh herbs and green apple
